

HK as an IP Hub : a proposal on what the government can do

Dr. Jacqueline C. Lui

U.S. Patent Agent; Managing Director of Eagle IP Limited; President of HIPP

There has been a lot of talk of developing IP hub around the world, and major cities like Singapore, Shenzhen and Hong Kong are all in the race to become a global IP hub. What actually is an IP hub? What are the necessary ingredients, and how would Hong Kong benefit economically from this concept? This talk attempts to answer some of these questions from the perspective of a patent practitioner who has first-hand experience in the patent practice in Hong Kong, China, the US and Singapore.
